Conflicting theories on origin of Vedas :

THUS SPAKE AMBEDKAR

Thus Spake Ambedkar

He infused warmth into these three worlds. From them, thus heated, three lights were produced — Agni (fire), this which purifies i.e. Pavana, or Vayu (the wind) and Surya (the sun). He infused heat into these three lights. From them so heated the three Vedas were produced — the Rig Veda from Agni (fire), the Yajur Veda from Vayu (wind) and the Sama Veda from Surya (the sun). He infused warmth into these three Vedas. From them so heated three luminous essences were produced, bhuh, from the Rig Veda, bhuvah from the Yajur Veda and svah from the Sama Veda. Hence with the Rig Veda, the office of the adhvaryu, with the Sama Veda the duty of the udgatri while the function of the Brahmin arose through the luminous essence of the triple science (i.e. three Vedas combined)".

The Satapatha Brahmana gives another variant of this explanation of the origin of the Veda from Prajapati. The explanation is that Prajapati created the Vedas from waters. Says the Satapatha Brahmana:

"This male, Prajapati, desired, May I multiply, may I be propagated. He toiled in devotion; he practised austere-fervour. Having done so he first of all created sacred knowledge, the triple Vedic science. This became a basis for him. Wherefore men say, "sacred knowledge is the basis of this universe". Hence after studying the Veda a man has a standing ground, for sacred knowledge is his foundation. Resting on this basis he (Prajapati) practised austere-fervour. He created the waters from Vach (speech) as their world. Vach was his; she was created. As he pervaded (apnot) waters were called apah. As she covered (avrinot) all, water was called Var. He desired, May I be propagated from these waters. Along with this triple vedic science he entered the waters. Thence sprang an egg. He gave it an impulse, and said let there be, let there be, let there be again. Thence was first created sacred knowledge, the triple Vedic science. Wherefore men say, sacred knowledge is the first born thing in this universe. Moreover, it was sacred knowledge which was created from that male in front, wherefore it was created as his mouth. Hence they say of a man learned in the Veda, he is like Agni, for the sacred knowledge is Agni's mouth".

Conflicting theories on origin of Vedas

There is a third explanation given in the Satapatha Brahmana:

"I settle thee the ocean as they seat".

"Mind is the ocean. From the mind-ocean with speech for a shovel the gods dug out the triple Vedic science. Hence this verse has been uttered; May the brilliant deity today know where they placed that offering which the gods dug out with sharp shovels. Mind is the ocean; speech is the sharp shovel; the triple Vedic science is the offering. In reference to this the verse has been uttered. He settles it in Mind".

The Taittiriya — Brahmana has explanations to offer. It speaks of the Vedas as being derived from Prajapati. It also says Prajapati created king Soma and after him the three Vedas were created. This Brahmana has another explanation quite unconnected with Prajapati. According to it:

"Vach (speech) is an imperishable thing, and the first-born of the ceremonial, the mother of the Vedas, and the center-point of immortality. Delighting in us, she came to the sacrifice. May the protecting goddess be ready to listen to my invocation, she whom the wise rishis, the composers of hymns, the gods sought by austere-fervour, and by laborious devotion".

To crown all this the Taittiriya Brahmana offers a third explanation. It says that the Vedas came from the beard of Prajapati.

III

The Upanishads have also attempted to explain the origin of the Vedas.

The explanation offered by the Chhandogya Upanishad is the same as that given by the Satapatha Brahmana — namely that the Rig Veda originated from Agni, Yajus from Vayu and Sam from the Sun. (To be continued)

Brahminist days numbered, future belongs to Bahujans : DV needs your support to survive

India of 1,300 millions, the second largest mass of humanity in the world, is in a state of total despair. Intellectually, morally and economically sinking. A vast ocean of humanity, which a recent visiting British PM, David Cameron, could never see (because it is cunningly hidden) is forcibly kept dumbed down. The enslaved masses have no strength even to shout. They have not even woken up from their centuries-old slumber.

The ruling micro-minority Brahminists (just 3%), during their over 2,000 year-long crafty human engineering, killed the burning fire in the hearts of the virile Dravidas and A d i - D r a v i d a s, systematically plundered their wealth, and literally sucked the boiling blood from their muscular body. Even the sub-Saharan African countries have not seen the poverty, deprivation which "Hindu India" is witnessing today, says a UN report.

What caused India's fall:

So, it is now too late to wake up the unconscious slaves and activate them. DV's existing plight is a faithful mirror image of what is happening, the turmoil, that has gripped "Hindu India".

In the neighbouring China, the population is much bigger but the ruling Communist Party used its vast human power to build the country into a powerful personality and made it into a super power.

China soared to the sky because its rulers loved its people but India sank into the depth of the Indian Ocean because its Brahminic rulers hated its people because they did not belong to India.

The Chinese giant has woken up and is trying to dictate terms to the whole world, showing its muscles. The sole super power, USA, is pissing in its pants and literally begging before China. In contrast our rulers have become a laughing stock of the world.

India's Bahujans comprising its SC/ST/BCs (65%) and Muslim/Christian/Sikhs (20%), plus women of even upper castes (Hindus 15%) are made lifeless, unable to react. Or open the mouth even when cut to pieces. Only in Kashmir we see some protests. But the Hindu army is crushing them.

Silence of DV family: We have said all these many times but the near-total silence of our DV family members — even when we announced the "Closing down DV" — further confirmed our fears.

How did this micro-minority enemy oppressor, the Aryan Brahminical people, convert India into a vast graveyard? What is the wonder weapon they used to dumb-down the behemoth Bahujans?

Yes. The answer lies in the mass media which the Brahminists control.

The education system, which covers not even 30% of the Indian masses, is again in the very enemy hands. The Bahujans are systematically kept out of education. Even those few who get the primary and secondary education are fed with

Raise DV subscription to Rs. 400 a year

MRS. PRITI GAUTAM, SUPREME COURT ADVOCATE, NEW DELHI - 110 001

The 3-month-long Debate on "Closing down DV" has disturbed my mind. I am a newcomer here. So too my husband. Though we love DV and specially your writings, we are not in a position to pay Rs. 1 lakh which you put as a condition to continue DV (June 1, 2010 editorial). DV is our lifeline. We wait for it every fortnight and read it line by line — twice. Fantastic forecasts. Senior family members have already expressed the opinion that DV is India's best English journal not only for Dalits but the whole of Bahujans. But our highly paid babus are not interested in DV. They are with our enemies. After a prolonged mental agony, we decided on making a proposal to tide over the immediate crisis: raise the DV annual subscription from RS. 300 a year to RS. 400 and life membership from Rs. 3,500 to Rs. 5,000. Each member should introduce 10 new members every year and he must see that they renew the subscription every year. We are sending Rs. 400. We are sure lovers of DV will accept our suggestion. DV should be saved at any cost — in our interest.

Brahminical poison and thereby get further dumbed down.

Dalit IAS/IPS officers: Those who are fortunate enough to get little education but only in their own mother tongue (English is strictly reserved to the Bhoodevatas) are subjected to further brainwashing by the language media. The brainwashing gets more vigorous, if not violent as you go up the socio-economic ladder.

That is how Dalits, OBCs and even Muslim/Christian/Sikhs among IAS/IPS and other Central Service officers get completely Brahminised (corrupted) by the time they take up their job. That is how these officers take to corruption because only the corrupt can become popular with the Brahmin bosses. If you are honest and ideologically Ambedkarite, your life becomes miserable. If you take to Vipassana, Brahmins will love you.

DV family members are these very Dalit-Bahujan elite whose blood itself has been poisoned by the time they took up the job. Exceptions to this rule go only to prove the rule.

Media influence: This is the cause of the silence of graveyard among our vast DV family. If our foreign subscribers are more alert, more angry it is solely because they have escaped the Brahminical gas chamber. At our recent meetings in London and Paris, DV members were more vocal.

To repeat what we have said many times: Brahmins are ruling India only because of their monopoly power on the media which is corrupting and corroding the Bahujan minds.

We, the over 85% of the Bahujans are reduced to slavery only because we have never tried to have our own media. DV was the first and (if it closes down) the last.

DV members silence: Dalits are running hundreds of journals but none has the courage to identify and name the rascals drinking our blood. Babasaheb did name these Brahminical blood-suckers. India's only other Dalit media which had the courage to identify, name and fight the enemy is DV. Several DV members have said this. Yet our DV family is not coming forward to save DV when it is sinking. Not that they are against DV or hate DV. No.

The reason for their total silence (with minor exceptions) is they have lost the capacity to think. This is what we very often describe as "slaves enjoying their slavery".

Assault on Muslims: The dumbing down of Muslims, who ruled India for 800 to 1,000 years, and made into not only slaves but dubbed terrorists and anti-nationals within 63 years of "independence"; is the most spectacular achievement of the ruling Brahminists. The world over the Muslims are fighting and dying and winning too — but in India they are simply dying or languishing in jails without a murmur. See how the protesting Kashmiris were tackled with military might.

The Brahminical media management is so total, so precision perfect, that no foreign power on earth took even notice of the military killing Kashmir craving for self-determination.

"Jews of India" join Jews: Being the first to get English education (even as they pretended to fight the British under their obedient servant, the Gujarati Bania), they were also the first to migrate and take up key positions in US, UK, the entire West. Not only that. The "Jews of India" cultivated the Jews, the real rulers of the West, and occupied influential positions in banking, media and other decision-making positions. During our recent tour of West, we did not find a single Western media criticising India. Rather they are all "dazzled" by the "rise of India" — sometimes called Chindia, hanging on to the tail of the rising super power China.

Agriculture destroyed: Take it from us: this 15% upper caste rulers can no more be controlled. They will mercilessly crush anybody going against their Brahminical rule.

They have already destroyed the entire countryside. Agriculture, the mother of all cultures, is devastated.

Corruption flows from the top. But this top — fully Brahminical — is also fully hidden by the Brahminical media. So much so corruption is no longer an issue. A topmost army general is facing court-martial. A Supreme Court judge is caught. The politicians right from the topmost Khatri Sick PM never complain against corruption. Because if they talk, the whole can of worms will open up.

Football fiasco: That is how the notorious Karnataka Brahmin, Suresh Rao Kalmadi, controlling the doomed Commonwealth Games, is fully protected even by the Khatri Sick PM.

All their tall talk of "remaking India" is bullshit.

You will find one more proof when the forthcoming Commonwealth Games collapses. In the football World Cup we did not participate because India did not have even a team. A country of 1,300 millions, which once had a fantastic team and participated in such events, is not ashamed. Yes. This is because the idli-sambar Brahminists are not interested in football which is the game for beef-eaters. Grass-eating Tendulkars can't play football.

India's steady fall begins: Therefore, the Brahminical boast of "remaking India" is all bullshit. The only thing they are capable of is India's steady destruction. That process has started. History bears testimony to what we have repeatedly said.

Hindus are capable of only one thing: destruction. Destruction of Babri Masjid is the latest and the tallest feather in their cap.

They hate their own world famous historian, Romila Thapar, also a Punjabi Hindu Khatri. She is hated because she speaks truth. They hate all Truth-tellers. DV is hated and its Editor subjected to all types of punishments only because he speaks out the truth without fear or favour.

Bahujans used to kill Muslims: As the grass-eating (vegetarian) Brahminists cannot become physically violent, they are preaching hatred and brain-washing the Bahujans to attack and kill Muslims. This process is called the "re-writing of history" for which the Vajpayee Govt. itself once committed millions of rupees. They want to make the "Hindus" more aggressive. When they say Hindu they actually mean the Bahujans. But the Brahmin is violent only in his thought. The physical violence has to be carried out by the other "Hindu", meaning the Dalits and OBCs, who are treated as slaves but suddenly given importance to kick, kill, burn and rape Muslims, Christians. This is the essence of Hinduism.

Muslims are made subservient but the "Hindus" (Bahujans) are made violent and aggressive. Brahminists have succeeded in this mission.

Aryan invasion: That is how anybody talking of "Aryan invasion" is howled at and humiliated. A big project to re-write history saying that the Brahmins are the original inhabitants of India is under way. Some pigs calling themselves historians are brought, feeding them with nutritious food. Their main target is Dalit Voice and its Editor. But no stone hurled at DV by these pigs hits the Editor. Mentioning the name of these pigs is below our dignity.

Brahminists killed Dr. Ambedkar: The whole idea is to control and colonise the "Hindu mind". When they say "Hindus", they mean the poor Dalit-Bahujans.

The current total silence of the Dalit Voice family is the best proof of the Brahminical control on the "Hindu mind". The non-Hindus, if not the anti-Hindu SC/ST/BCs have been made Hindu and slaves of Brahminists. This is Hinduism.

Babasaheb Ambedkar was the one and the only giant who fought these pigs but they killed him by supplying a Brahmin girl and then importing a Marwari Bania from Burma to kill the little fire in the Buddhist followers of Babasaheb through Vipassana poison. (DV Nov.16, 2009 p.20: "Who killed the Prophet of New India?")

Why the Brahminists are playing havoc with the entire body of India? Why they are shaking up the entire foundation of the Bahujan Bharat? Why this assault on our glorious history? Why they want to say that Indus Valley is Aryan? Why they want to discredit, and destroy all those who stand for progress?

Fear grips Brahminists: The secret is the Brahminists are suffering from a terrible fear arising out of a deep-rooted insecurity. He is afraid of his own shadow. Whom is he afraid of when he is the ruler? He has the support of the formidable Jews who control the whole West. The world's sole super power USA is in the pocket of the Jews. The media is the Brahminical sole monopoly, banking is their speciality. The Hindu gods, all the 33 crores of them, dance to the tune of the Bhoodevatas.

Read the book, OFFENCE — The Hindu Case, by a Brahmin himself, Salil Tripathi, Sea Gull Books, 2009, pp.120 photocopy available with Dalit Voice.

Conspiracy of silence: What is the secret of this Brahmin fear? When they are the absolute, unquestioned rulers whom are they fearing? And why? The Brahmin author of the above book knows the answer but he does not reveal it—because of his love for his jati. Whenever a truth is inconvenient they simply hide it. Killing the hated thing by remaining silent. This is a deadly Brahminical weapon. DV and its Editor are victims of this Brahminical conspiracy of silence.

Kamasutra as the Brahmin Bible: The Bhoodevata honestly thinks that he is threatened by the massive population that is Bahujan (85%). If tomorrow this massive majority just shouts in anger, the cross-thread walas will start getting heart attack. The constitutional trick they resorted to convert the non-Hindu (if not anti-Hindu) "Bahujan India" into "Hindu India" is failing.

The masses have come to know through Babasaheb, Periyar EVR and now Dalit Voice that the bogus Brahminists, who boast of Kamasutra as the "Hindus" greatest gift to the world, have no right to speak of morals, ethics, justice and truth.

It is this fear that has gripped the Bhoodevata hearts that is making them finish off papers like DV — even though it is a mosquito bite on them.

"Caste identity" killing Bhoodevata: The Brahminical worry is politically they are defeated, finished. DV's "caste identity" theory has caught the imagination of SC/ST/BC and asserting their rights. Almost all the state chief ministers are not Brahmins, if not anti-Brahmins. Even in parliament, the Bahujans are the big majority.

The Brahmin simply cannot get elected because he has no strength of population.

That is why he is resorting to the tricks of entering the legislature through the notorious Women's Bill backdoor. As the caste consciousness grows, no Brahmin can enter the legislature. Scenting serious disaster, the Brahminists are killing the political power, meaning people's power, itself. In other words they are killing democracy itself which is already half dead in India. Politicians are systematically ridiculed.

But nothing of it will work. The Bahujans have been convinced of the benefits of "caste identity" and "caste struggle" which will simply wipe out the Bhoodevatas. This is the deadliest trump-card in our hands and we must use it to kill every snake. DV must live to kill this snake.

Instead of concentrating on strengthening the Bahujan Samaj our educated elite are busy bum-licking the Brahmin. "Caste identity" is the Brahmastra to kill the Brahminical serpent.

That is why the ruling Bhoodevatas are seriously worried. Anything they touch is turning into charcoal. But at the same time they won't allow even a tiny paper like DV to survive because it is constantly irritating them, exposing them by revealing hidden secrets of the Bhoodevatas. It is teaching them how to kill the snake.

Future belongs to us: As we are debating the "closing down DV" issue, we want our family members to remember that future belongs to us. Violence is gripping India. The rulers want peace because peace of the graveyard helps them to steal, plunder and murder more Bahujans "peacefully".

But the Bahujans are not allowing them peace. Everything the Brahminist touches is becoming mud. Confusion has gripped India. The forthcoming Commonwealth Games (if it takes place) will prove it. We have already predicted its collapse.

Yes. Everything is favourable to us. But there is only one condition. That condition is we must get angry. We must start hating the existing conditions created by the enemy. You have to identify the enemy — a task already made easy by DV.

International situation is very favourable to us. We have written many times on this. No where we have proved wrong except in the case of Obama.

DV line of thought is perfect: DV's line of thought is accepted. Though the journal is named Dalit Voice, it is the "Voice of the Persecuted Nationalities Denied Human Rights" (85%).

In another five years dramatic changes will take place and the Brahminists will themselves run away from India. Already their one foot is out of India.

A mere raise of one foot that is inside India by mere four inches will tilt them out of India. Good riddance of the bad rubbish.

So, please understand and appreciate our anguished, but deepest, thoughts and see that DV is not forced to close.

We have given you all the assurances fully based on historical factors and the forces with which we are in close touch: The Brahminist days are counted. Our family members may not know it. But our enemy knows it very well. It is deeply worried.

When the enemy is drowning in the well, we must take a heavy stone and throw it on its head — so that it is fully drowned.

We assure you, DV will do this job.

We only need your support. And best wishes. ■

3 reasons why DV members discontinue subscription

D.V. MESHAM, PLOT NO.30, WARD NO.2, ASHIRWAD NAGAR, CHAMORSHI RD, BEFORE BILT OFFICE, GADCHIROLI - 442 605

"Closing down DV" decision was sudden and unexpected. I can understand your frustrations/predicament/helplessness. I joined DV just five years ago. But I am saddened that this revolutionary/intellectual/philosophical journal is closing so soon. It is a personal loss to me. Many readers like me are intellectually as well as emotionally attached to DV. All of them will now weep with me. Dalit Voice is the only fearless Ambedkarite journal in India. At this juncture DV has no other alternative. What a tragedy that India's bravest journal is going into grave and the Bahujan Samaj will become slave.

As a great admirer, I would like to share my feelings. I tried my level best to bring new readers. To some extent I succeeded. About 90 new members joined the DV family. To many, I paid the subscription as my gift. I am fully satisfied with the number. But sorry to note that only few are continuing the DV membership. The reasons they have given to discontinue are shameful. Some said they could not understand English. Some said they don't get the time to read. Many thought why they should waste the money? What a pity.

But as a DV family member my appeal is not to close down DV. If it is not possible to run as fortnightly, make it monthly or even half yearly. But never, ever close down. The subject of "Closing down DV" brings tears in my eyes. Dalit Voice is a masterpiece in Indian journalism. DV is the only brave tiger in Ambedkarite philosophical forest. DV readers will become orphan without it. ■

Killing Dalit movement is nothing but killing India

Brother D.V. Meshram is right. This is the experience all those who launched DV subscription drive. As for English, nobody has asked them not to study it. Dr. Ambedkar about a century back, living in a remote village and under more serious poverty mastered English and excelled the best of the Brahmin. How?

Brain dead: Brahminism has entered the very soul of our people, corroded and corrupted their brains. Nobody can save them. A majority of those going to the country's richest Brahmin temple, Tirupati, are our people. They go there, shave their heads and out of the hair the enemy makes a flourishing business. No Brahmin is ever seen getting his head shaved.

Our considered opinion after 30 years of experiment with DV, travelling all over the country many times, interacting with hundreds of "educated" Dalits is that the "educated" Dalits are brain dead —with minor exceptions like that of Brother D.V. Meshram. The 3% Brahminists have hinduised (enslaved) them and finished them. The other 97% of the uneducated, poverty-stricken Dalits are not Brahminised but they are helpless. Animal existence. Such of them are being "killed" by the Brahmin leadership of Maoist parties.

The ruling Brahminists may be rejoicing over killing the Dalit movement but they don't know that by this act they have killed the country itself. But why the alien Brahminists should worry about India, which is not theirs? — EDITOR. ■

No pay-back, no quota

J.N. SUDHAKAR, TAIWAN

There are many urban English-educated Dalits (BC/SC/ST) in our forum including my own family members and friends who can afford to donate to Dalit Voice. All are silent and enjoying the sufferings of millions of Dalits but ever ready to protect and save Brahmins by donating, dancing, jumping, singing, crawling, prostrating and running around their temples. They do not understand the power of the "media centre".

Brahminists succeeded by capturing the media. All the educated Dalits, who benefit by reservation policy have a duty to pay back to the Dalit movement. If they fail to pay back, then they are not eligible to use reservations to themselves and to their children. In case, they use reservations to themselves and to their children without paying anything to Dalit movement then they are cheating. I know you from my childhood. Dr. Yadaiah

(your Hyderabad representative) is my uncle. I read most of your books. I am very much inspired by your writings. But when I go to people and talk no one is interested to listen or read anything. As you said uneducated poor Dalits are far better than the privileged Dalits. I requested some of my Christian friends to talk to their churches and convince them to donate something to DV. Lets see what they say. ■

You are the only member of the DV (despite living abroad) seriously worried over the closure of DV. We have our Dalit representatives in different state headquarters whose names appear on every DV p.3. You will be shocked if I tell you: even they (except S.C. Musafir) have not written a word till now. When I think of the state of the Indian educated, privileged Dalits, I silently weep. The uneducated poor Dalits are much better — EDITOR. ■

Is "Hindu India" dying?

V.T. RAJSHEKAR

Dr. Ambedkar died a sad man. He literally wept like a child saying the "educated people of my community have deceived me".

After a record 30-year-long service, we too have to repeat the same song. If DV dies, it will be nothing but yet another clear signal that the stagnating, if not the stinking Brahminic India, is rushing towards collapse.

Dalits along with Tribals (30%) are India's poorest of the poor whom the Brahminic rulers have crushed and made mince-meat. The other deprived are OBCs (40%) plus Muslims (15%). History has recorded all this.

ONLY VOICE

DV has been their only voice. Not of Dalits alone. This is what the over 75% of oppressed Indians have said. DV has been the voice of the entire Moolnivasi

Bahujans. The rulers did not hesitate to kill India itself because they are aliens. Will they spare Dalits?

But it was the duty of elite among Dalits to save at least DV and thereby India. But they did not bother.

Can India live with Dalits and other oppressed (total 75%) on the death-bed?

This is what pains us and often make us weep in silence.

DV FAILED BECAUSE

Brahminism killed Bahujan desire to learn

GURNAM SINGH MUKTSAR, 2 - BHAGAT SINGH NAGAR, B/H BUS STAND, MUKTSAR - 152 026

Perhaps this is third time when our great warrior-scholar, in total sadness, is expressing his desire to stop Dalit Voice. Till today our people have not allowed him to take this disastrous step that he accepted with heavy heart. But how long it will continue? No doubt our beloved VTR had good dreams for a total change in the caste and hate-based society of this country of ours but under the mountain of Brahminism. He desired to get it free from the clutches of Vaidik Brahmin Aryans. In 30-long years of struggle he could change only the minds. He could not change the masses. Why? Because he as an expert in English, he could pass on the true message of Babasaheb to the world unknown. He could tell about the blood-sucker Brahminism to the world. This effort made England to pass a Bill against casteism (Brahminism). We now listen about the giant of casteism even in UNO. The world has come to know this truth of caste-based racial hate in India because of DV. This is the achievement of Dalit Voice and that of VTR.

VTR is a scholar-intellectual but not a mass leader. He has contacts all over India and the world. He is a great scholar but not a mass leader as Babasaheb. Kanshi Ram could gather lakhs. But VTR is a great scholar on Ambedkarism and he too has created a mental revolution. I know him since 1981-82. His ideas have given me a mountain of knowledge that has become Mansrovar that supplies water through rivers and canals to the villages, where the downtrodden dwell.

VTR could run a movement of ideas to free Indian masses, victims of BSO. He has guided the world on the lines of our great saviours like Phule-Shahu and Ambedkar. Since 1981-82, as a Dalit Untouchable Sikh, I am going to my people to get them free from the jaws of Brahminism. There I use the knowledge of VTR, I gained through Dalit Voice. VTR ideas are the guidelines for social revolution. Moreover DV has brought mass recognition to those scholars of the Bahujans not known to the masses of India like me. Through DV I have come in contact with revolutionary scholars. Like Mahatma Phule and Shahu Maharaj who belonged to Backward Castes, VTR too as a Backward Caste man has continued the ideological revolution. Who can forget this struggle? VTR has created the history of Bahujans. He has exposed the Vaidik Brahmins who always loot and fool the Bahujans.

Kanshi Ram's media centre: There is a gulf between a scholarly work and a mass work. One can work on both fronts like Babasaheb and Kanshi Ram. As Vaman Meshram is doing. It is not impossible.

I request VTR to forget the idea of mass media to wake up the revolutionary masses. He very well knows what has happened to the "media centre" set up by Kanshi Ram. Mayawati is in power but she never desired such a media. BAMCEF wanted such a media.

When people don't get angry what mass action can do?

You have asked us to forget the "media centre" plan and get into mass movement, which ultimately amounts to politics. For your information Babasaheb and Kanshi Ram also took to mass movement but it had no effect on the masses. Babasaheb will be remembered only for his ideas. Kanshi Ram had no original ideas, he took to politics which today is controlled by Brahmins.

Dalits and even BCs (also Muslims) are today so much mentally enslaved by Brahminism that they can't get out of it. India has not seen any revolution. Even physical torture, starvation and extreme deprivation are not provoking our people to revolt. In the light of these what type of mass movement will wake up the masses pretending to sleep? — EDITOR. ■

Brahmastra to destory Brahminism

COM. AYYANKALI

After reading the latest issue of DV (July 16, 2010) I once again realised strongly that "educated" (Brahminised) Dalits and upper caste Ashraf Muslims are our biggest enemies and betrayers. But I have some hope in Arzal (Pasmada) Muslims among Christians, Muslims and Sikhs (Mazhabhi) Chamar Sikhs).

I want Arzal/Pasmada Muslims to think on my suggestion. Ashraf (upper caste) Muslims will never, ever embrace them as brothers because they are more interested in boasting about their Urdu, Arab-Turkish-Persian royal lineage, Prophet Mohammed's lineage and so-called superior blood. Also they are under the influence of Saudi money, zionism and Brahminism.

Arzal/Pasmada Muslims must adopt any anti-zionist version of Islam. In fact, Mazhabhi/Chamar Sikh Dalits also must do the same thing and abandon the Khatri and Jat-dominated version of Sikhism which is nothing but Brahminism.

Khatri and Jat Sikhs will never embrace Mazhabhi/Chamar Sikhs and Ashraf Muslims will never join their own co-religionists who are the real Mustadafeen.

Liberation theology: Dalit-Muslim unity is simply impossible, impractical and undesirable as well. How can tigers and lambs live together in peace? But Mazhabhi/Chamar Sikh Dalits and Arzal/Pasmada Dalit Muslims can surely join hands with Black Bishop Reverend Azharaiah's Dalit Christians. This is very much realistic.

Rev. Azharaiah can and must do the ideological and theological work to achieve this miracle by retro-fitting the engine of Catholic-origin Liberation theology on a Protestant and anti-zionist chassis. Such a bulldozer of a vehicle can smash all the conspiracies of all upper caste crooks — whether Christian, Hindu, Muslim or Sikh. All Dalits — Muslim, Hindu, Christian and Sikh — must adopt English and Christianity's liberation theology as weapons.

All upper castes of any religion love their jati more than even their religion. It will also conclusively prove that by using the name of religion, the Ashraf Muslims were merely fooling and exploiting Arzal/Pasmanda Muslims deliberately all these decades.

VTR's "caste identity" thesis makes this point clear.

It is now crystal clear that Dalit Voice will surely close down, because so far only one single OBC has actually sent the cash. Voltaire was absolutely right — "When it comes to money, all of us belong to the same religion". It has also become clear that educated (Brahminised) Dalits have been reading Dalit Voice — not for its revolutionary ideas, but for cheap entertainment.

These educated Dalits without self-respect and dignity are least interested in fighting — but enjoy the vicarious thrill when the hero, the Editor of Dalit Voice, is continuously bashing up the Brahminical villain on the cinema screen. So they will whistle when the Editor strips the villains and parades them naked. They will clap when the hero Editor thrashes these villains in the marketplace. But when the Editor asks these thrilled cowards to simply throw a few stones at the enemy, they simply shiver and shit in fear. When he asked them for money, they respond with a deafening silence which is not found in even abandoned graveyard.

Dalit moists: No wonder Dr. Ambedkar went directly to the uneducated rural Dalits who don't understand English and are not Brahminised. In fact, spending so much efforts on educated Dalit IAS and IPS officers was the biggest mistake. But the Editor misunderstood what I said about Dalits refusing to take up armed struggle. He said that Dalits have already taken to armed struggle. That is true. But the question is under whose leadership?

The only Dalits leading and running the Maoist T리티ya Prastuti Committee have taken to caste-class struggle as well as armed maoist struggle. What is the use of Dalits joining the ranks of Brahmins like Prachanda and Vara Vara Rao?

Gaddar with Brahmins: I was condemning Dalits like Gaddar who have joined Brahmin manuwadi maoists like Vara Vara Rao and Prachanda. The one and only one Dalit-led and Dalit staffed party presently engaging in armed, bloody and revolutionary armed struggle against both Vara Vara Rao, Prachanda and the Brahminist police is Maoist T리티ya Prastuti Committee (MTPC).

While Prachanda and Vara Vara Rao are busy following the revisionist zionist-controlled fake "revolutionary international movement" (RIM), it is only the Dalit-led MTPC which has the potential to join hands with the leading light communist organisation (LLCO) which upholds the Lin Piao Line of Global Peoples' War which is known today as "third worldist maoism" or "maoism-third worldism".

So far this has not happened. But the day the Dalit-led MTPC joins hands with LLCO to launch a pan-Indian armed, bloody and violent caste-class struggle, the entire equation will change and the Brahminical Social Order will be finished. Until that day, Brahminism and all the non-stop tragedy wrecked by it will continue.

But if you want this to happen, we must get all Dalits — Hindu, Sikh, Muslim and Christian — under a single Dalit-led movement. ■

Why Dalits carry Hindu names?

MUMTAZ HUSSAIN, DOHA, QATAR

I am a DV subscriber for the last 17 years. If our beloved Editor starts "Dalit media centre" in Delhi, I will contribute every year till my death. Though you criticise Hinduism, educated Dalits still carry Hindu names. Those who fought Brahminism and converted to Christianity, Islam, Sikhism changed their names because the name itself is a sign of protest to Brahminism. Names like Richard Dsouza or Anitha Carsto, Mohammed Fazal and Partap Singh. Dalits still carry Hindu names. ■

Yes. You are right. Brahminism has killed them. Made them lifeless. Yet they are in deep love with the enemy-oppressor. That is the power of Brahminism — EDITOR. ■

S.S. GILL, GATE WALI GALI NO.3, SJS NAGAR, GILL, LUDHIANA DT.-141 116

I discussed the case of Dalit Voice with my relation, B.S. Mangat in UK, who is also a DV family member. He was very keen that DV must continue. He promised to go on paying Rs. 25,000 every quarterly and Rs. 1 lakh for year for three years without fail. He even promised to continue paying the above amount of Rs. 1 lakh even after 3 years also. If the media centre cannot started, he promised to keep on paying Rs. 10,000 every year on the condition that DV is continued. I am sending a draft for Rs. 10,000 on his behalf. I will also contribute my due share after hearing from you.

London plea not to stop DV

V.T. RAJSHEKAR

Bangalore: We are under pressure from our family members not to "Close down DV". The pressure is more from our foreign family.

But those inside India, the big majority, is indifferent. Sleeping? Or is it like our oft-repeated statement: "Slaves enjoying their slavery?"

The only problem forcing us to "close down" is the continuous losses. But, alas, even those pressing us to avert the disaster have no answer.

If a Brahminical paper were to face such a disaster by this time hundreds, if not thousands of rupees would have simply poured in.

Muslim silence: But in the case of DV, India's only journal of the persecuted nationalities denied human rights, the silence of the big majority is ominous. And so worrying. What is happening to Babasaheb Ambedkar's dear children?

As for Muslims, less said the better. Such a virile revolutionary community, endowed with such a powerful religion, which vanquished the world's sole super power in Iraq and then defeated in Afghanistan — to cite the two latest historic achievements — is dozed and dispirited. Dead? We have no words to describe the Muslim state of mind.

Muslims form about 30% of our family. Those who read DV in our website are not included.

At the London conference of LISA there was a unanimous plea that when the DV's new thesis on the "Jews and Jews of India" is getting world recognition and our new book on this shocking thesis is taking shape and we have met a famous publisher in London who has come forward to publish the 200-odd page book, it is not proper to "close down DV" which is needed to serve as the launching pad for this fantastic thesis. ## Editor's "Jews of India" theory gets London appreciation

PRANAB MALLIK, LONDON (VIA EMAIL)

The famous theory of V.T. Rajshekar that the Jews squeezing the Western world and the "Jews of India" dominating the South Asia are blood brothers received unanimous endorsement at a meeting of the executive committee of the London Institute of South Asia (LISA) held in London on July 17, 2010.

V.T. Rajshekar, who represents India in LISA, in his presentation on the "Maoist movement in India" concluded his speech at the British Parliament House (Westminster) meeting of the 7th annual conference of LISA on July 14, saying:

"West is driven by the Jews and the East by the Jews of India. These twin enemies of humanity have to be fought and eliminated if we have to free the world from tyranny and exploitation".

This was greeted with a standing ovation by the entire gathering in the historic Portcullis House overlooking the Thames River.

At the executive meeting of the LISA later, the Editor of Dalit Voice, who is held in high esteem, was asked to elaborate on his thesis which he first propounded in his book, Brahminism, (DSA-2001).

Alan Hart, the British author of the 3-volume book, Zionism — Real Enemy of the Jews, and an expert on zionist Jews, said VTR had been long writing and speaking on his theory of "Jews and Jews of India" with which he fully agreed.

Representatives of all South Asian nationalities from Bangladesh, Assam, Kashmir, Pakistan, Nepal and Dalits were present.

A proposal was made to give an award to V.T. Rajshekar for propounding this theory so that it will help unite all those victims of the two tyrants and forge a common front.

Meanwhile, a well known British publishing house has come forward to publish V.T. Rajshekar's book, "The Jews & the Jews of India", which he has been writing for the past two years. It may take a year more to complete.

He was made a novel suggestion that the proposed LISA award to his new thesis should also result in establishing a new foundation on the lines of the Nobel Foundation, which belonged to the Jews, to encourage all humanist writers to research on the "Jews of India". ■

Brahminical big bully quarrels with all its neighbours

OUR CORRESPONDENT

Bangalore: Brahminist rulers of India may be inwardly rejoicing that the rising violent Maoist movement and its enthusiastic Maoist supporters in Nepal are both controlled by their jatwalas. The Nepali Maoists may be headed by a beef-eating, scotch-guzzling, equally corrupt and casteist Brahmin Prachanda. (DV Sept. 16, 2008 p.7: "Brahminical joy over Prachanda take over of Nepal" & p. 8: "Brahmin Prachanda as great admirer of killer Parashuram"). But the entire Nepal has turned against India but closer to the enemy camp, China.

Prachanda also hates India: India has been virtually controlling Nepal until very recently. The Indian ambassador to Kathmandu was like a "second king", so powerful. All this is gone, thanks to the overbearing Brahminical bosses of India. If there is one country today which is so much hated in Nepal — "the only Hindu country in the world" — it is the Hindu India, thanks to the "imperialist Brahmins" who have quarrelled with all their neighbours. India today is hated by Pakistan, China, Nepal, Bhutan, Bangladesh, Burma, Lanka and even the tiny Maldives. India is surrounded by a host of enemies all around — thanks to 65 years of Brahminical rule.

A report in the prestigious Financial Times (July 16, 2010), London, by its Delhi correspondent, James Lamont, says even the Brahmin Prachanda hates the Brahminical India. Maybe Prachanda depends so much on China which alone can fulfil his ambition to rule Nepal.

Chinese weapons: As Prachanda's Maoists are fully supporting the Indian Brahmin-led Maoists, there are unconfirmed reports that Prachanda has helped procure some Chinese weapons to his Indian comrades to fight the Indian rulers. Today, every neighbour is so chummy with China, in contrast with India whose rulers have the knack to quarrel and even fight with every neighbour.

So much so, India today is totally encircled by many enemies around. But China is so much loved and supported by all its neighbours.

The FT quotes "a retired Indian army general, Ashok Mehta, a Brahmin" saying if China controls the Himalayan height of Nepal, it would have no need of a nuclear arsenal trained on India.

But India's rulers are not bothered about what happens to India. Because they don't belong to India, hence they don't love India. This is the secret.

Why India is hated: India's Brahmin PM Nehru provoked a war with China and at least 1 lakh Indian soldiers died (1962) but not 1 Chinese soldier was killed. But the rulers were not at all perturbed. They will be worried only if their jatwalas are killed. All those who died in the Himalayan holocaust were our people (SC/ST/BCs Muslims/Sikhs/Christians).

The Brahminical logic is that all these fellows died because they were destined to die. They fought for their motherland and died. As India is not their motherland, they are not expected to die and hence they are not bothered about what happens to India. This is the great Brahminical logic.

Please note: If there is a war tomorrow with the nuclear Pakistan, the rulers will not be bothered because those who die will not be their people. It is this hate-mongering policy of the Brahminists that has made India hated by all its neighbours.

Every country around India is so close to China. That means China is virtually lording over the whole of South Asia, says FT. Lanka hates India despite being Buddhist country, but loves China.

Lanka is anti-India: Brahmins stationed a notorious Brahmin, Raman Iyer, formerly of the RAW, at Madras to direct its operations in Lanka. It gave every aid, including army to fight the Lankan Tigers and finish them. Once their job is over Lanka turned against India refusing to oblige the Brahminical big bully. Today, China gives full military and financial aid to Lanka. It is building roads, airports and a massive sea-port at Hambantota, on the South of the island.

China, however, does not trust the Brahmin Prachanda but using him to give sleepless nights to the big bully. But this bully is not bothered as long as the Indian Maoists confine themselves to rural areas where their jatwalas don't stay. But once it attacks cities, the abode of the bullies, the big Bully may order the army to strike.

Meanwhile, the big bully is deeply worried about its shrunken influence even on its neighbours. Its international ally, the Jews, are losing. But China, its no.1 enemy, is rising.

The big bully is suffering from an acute stomach-ache but there is no medicine. ■

Thus Spake Periyar

Rishis	Born to
8. Vashistar	Urvasi
9. Naradar	Washer woman
10. Kadasasallyar	Widow
11. Madankar	Cobbler woman
12. Mandaviyar	Frog
13. Kangaeyar	Ass
15. Sounagar	Dog
16. Ganathar	Owl
17. Sugar	Parrot
18. Jambuvantar	Bear
19. Aswathaman	Horse

This is the greatness of the Hindu rishis and their births. I think the people of the Barbarian era would at least be more intelligent than our Dravidian people. The history of our forefathers and rishis is disgusting and demeaning. They are responsible for our Dravidian degradation and disgrace. Now let us pass on to other gods.

As per one Hindu mythology Mahavishnu and Parameswaran both males, fall in love with each other, cohabit and produce a male child which is being worshipped by the Hindu orthodox people even now, as Sastha or Iyappan, or Harihara Puthran.

Iyappa: Again it is stated clearly that Mahavishnu fell in love with another Brahma rishi called Naradar and produced not one child but 60 babies. 60 years of the Hindus from Prabava are named after the 60 children of Brahma.

These episodes do not stop with Mahavishnu. We are told of interesting vulgarities about Mahavishnu's wife called Mahalakshmi. It seems Lakshmi saw a beautiful horse and instantly fell in love with the horse. Vishnu, the knower of all things, came to know about this matter. He immediately changed his wife Lakshmi, into a mare and he himself became a horse. The Vishnu and Lakshmi enjoyed. They did not give birth to a foal, but a human being was born to them. He was named Eka Veeran.

Now let us take into consideration the truths said about the greatness of Devendiran, the king of the devas. Once the king Devendiran happened to see a lady named Parisadam, she was the dutiful wife of a rishi. He wanted to have intercourse with her. He said that he had a great love for her. She replied that she has neither love for Indiran nor could she betray her husband. Indiran was frustrated. He was determined to achieve his object. Some time later the rishi performed Aswamedha yaga wherein his wife Parisadam had to insert the penis of the horse into her womb, as a ritual. Indiran seized this as the best opportunity. He somehow entered inside the male organ of the horse and accomplished his long felt desire. Indiran spoilt Parisadam forcibly against her wishes.

Constitution based on Manu's law

I have enlightened you with great restraint, the details regarding Brahma, Rishis, Devas and their king to enable you to learn something about them as is authoritatively stated in the Manu's code.

Courts warned: Today our high courts are giving judgments based on the Hindu law. As the justice is given to all taking into consideration mainly what the Manu law, rishis and devas have said sometime long ago, I am telling you all these things for deep consideration.

So far as the Hindus are concerned, where there is a problem to be decided, the dharma sastras are seemed to be the main basic rock of determination. Of all, the Manu code is the most important one.

The Privy Council has categorically stated about the Manu code thus: "However obsolete and out of date it might be judgment based on it are final". Not only this, the Constitution of India is also laid down according to the Manu law.

The very fact that the measures taken by the government of Tamil Nadu to enable all communities to do the job as priests in temples were nullified by the Supreme Court of India clearly demonstrated that the Manu's law is still under the full sway. The Act passed by the elected representatives of the people in Tamil Nadu assembly has been set aside as derogatory and against Manu law. (To be continued)

Letters to Editor

K.T. Kishan (A Brahmin-turned Christian) in USA (via email): I remember my childhood in my village. Dalits were indeed ill-treated. I remember an incident when a huge fire engulfed all the huts where your people lived. No one came to help any of them. This was in early 60s. I left India in 70 and I do not know what is happening now. Don't you think things have changed now? You have every right to protest and your people have special quotas in education and job market. I may be mistaken. You may disagree with me. I cannot dwell in the negative thoughts. If DV closes, so be it. You or your people will never going to be closed. I trust in god and if one door closes he always opens another door. I am not trying to be philosophical and for me it is true and I have experienced in the past and hope to experience even more. Failures are part of life and these experiences are learning tools. Please do not give up your talent, your passion, your love and your hope for the people. Have you heard anything about Holocaust? Muslim world does not believe that some thing happened. I visited Israel and toured the holocaust museum. It was gut wrenching experience I could not imagine people of that calibre existed not too long ago. My point is there are bad things everywhere, many are worse than what we see. India stands 134 in ranking, so what? People think America will soon go down economically and no longer would be super power. Does that mean I need to stop what I am doing and start worrying? You think there is a simple solution, we can change just like that? Instead of worrying and ranting about how bad the Brahmins are treating the lower castes I would rather look at myself and see what I can do that makes a difference in this world. Statistics are partly true. Have you thought about the next move beyond DV? I understand your concerns. You may call me Bania, Bohra, blood sucker, leopard, masked etc. It is OK. I am Kishan and I do not have a label Brahmin, Dalit, Christian etc. The message in your letter is exactly how the Brahmins came up with. No Dalit can become Brahmin. One is born to Dalit based on his/her bad karma. Brahmins are pure and are close to god because of their good karma. It is up to you to believe in such messages. I do not pretend to be a Christian, I question many theological and dogmatic Christian things, Christianity what I believe is not the one traditionally practiced which is lot more into heaven, hell, sin, conversion, "turn or burn" etc. Jesus was not a religious person and never said people to worship him in the whole Bible. All he asked was to follow his path of love. I am a free man and I have nothing to hide and I have no agenda. I like to see people at the same level. The last thing I want to do is to influence you or control your thinking. My point is to recognize you as a good fellow human being who has passion for the underprivileged people and work for them. I encourage you to be a great leader in the fight against the oppressors. I do differ with your methodology of feeling victimized and feel sorry for yourself. I see in that line of thinking there is no growth. The example I gave you about the holocaust was not just about the worst crime but it is more about the resiliency and courage of the Israel people. I personally witnessed when I visited Israel last year. No way I want to put you or any of your people down. We cannot undo the past and we cannot control Brahmins or any other human being for that matter. That does not mean there is no hope and I do believe what Jesus said "Blessed are the poor (both in material and spiritual)". This has taken me years to understand. I do not say I just converted into a modern religion like putting on a new cloth. I did not come to find another god or to seek salvation. I wrote earlier I do not understand traditional theistic stuffs like heaven, hell, sin, salvation etc. But I do not argue with religious Christians. I came to Christ to find the exact meaning of love, not another religion. I am afraid for most people who embraced Christianity in India this is just another religion, perhaps better. It is very easy to put Jesus or Mary in an altar and worship like most Hindus do. Personally I have had my own downsides and I still struggle at times. Do not be judgemental in telling me I am just after individual salvation. What is salvation? Slave in Latin means a topical healing medicine. Love is healing. I really do not understand they are after saving souls. They think there will be an eternal fire for the unbelievers, the concept not much different from karmic concept of Hindus (Brahmins). I applaud your effort is collective salvation.

When you find a cobra, will you refuse to be "judgemental"? Or will you kill the poisonous viper? The Zionist Jews in US and Brahminism in India are cousins and both cobras. It is this cobra that killed even Gandhi. Even educated people like you are so ill-informed. The Govt. of India's Scheduled Caste Commission which oversees the "special quotas in education and job" has said nothing is implemented in the past 60 years. When primary schools itself do not exist in rural areas, how can Dalits get education and avail the special quotas? Brahminical media is publishing false news. If DV closes, the heavens will not fall. We know it. But it proves that the country is falling. It is already at the 134th rank of the 187 countries in the world. DV closure indicates it is sinking deeper. Let it. That is your philosophy. Not ours. Though you became a Christian, you have not given up your Brahminism. Wherever the Brahmin goes, he carries his caste (identity) which is more dangerous than religion. In Gujarat, there is a caste called Bania (Gandhi was one). A large number of them became Muslims and called themselves Bohras but continued to be blood-suckers. During the 2002 Gujarat Genocide of Muslims in which over 2,500 Muslims were slaughtered by the hate-mongering Hindus, the Bohra Muslims were also killed. When they faced death, the Bohras begged the killers to spare them saying they were Banias but they were not spared. India has a mere 15% upper castes (Hindus including Brahmins) but we have no instance of one single leopard changing its spot. We know everything about the Holocaust but history says the Jew, the creators of the Holocaust industry, killed more Christians in Russia to establish their communism. Every reply you have given ever since you came in contact with us reveals you as a 150% Brahmin hiding under a Christian mask. Please don't worry about DV. You got converted to Christianity, after not being able to tolerate the stink of Brahminism but only to seek "individual salvation". But we are in the mission of seeking "collective salvation". Individual salvation is no solution. Only collective salvation liberates a society. Jesus fought for collective salvation — EDITOR.

Alan Billups, Washington (via email): I have informed Elmore on "Closing down of DV" and I hope that you can use this opportunity to change poison into medicine as the Daishonin instructs his disciple in difficult situations. I have also completed the memorial ceremony for your wife and parents at Myosenji Temple this past Sunday the June 27 as I told you in Bangalore I would do. Please keep me informed about the future of Dalit Voice.

Theresa Nona, New York, I am a college instructor of Black Studies at Yonkers, New York, USA. I would like to find out the status of many people. I would like to speak to people in New York area. I have a small Television documentary program. I am privilege to read your material. I want to meet you. I am aware of much of the situation for Indian Blacks. My job is to let people know. The overwhelming majority in the US know nothing about you and the Black Untouchables of India. I want to bring that knowledge to people. If there is any person from your community who is or will be in NY I would like to meet with them.

Happy you read our book, Dalit — The Black Untouchables of India, (Clarity Press, Atlanta, GA), published way back and gone into many editions). We form 30% of India's 1,300 million but totally enslaved by the Brahminical "Jews of India" who are the rulers (3%). In New York area or even outside our people are not there. Your country is packed with our oppressors who are the brothers of the Jews who control USA. We spent a half day in Harlem studying the shocking conditions of Black in 2006. Our people are still worse — EDITOR.

Mansukh Gaijan (gaijanmb@yahoo.co.in): I did my Ph.D. in Dalit Literature. The title of my work was "Dalit Literary Tradition in Gujarat: A Critical Study". The book is published by Gujarat Dalit Sahitya Akademi. (2) Dalit Literature : Critical Exploration, worked with Dr. A. N. Prasad, Sarup & Sons New Delhi. (3) Pristine Land: Gujarati Dalit Literature, worked with Harish Manglam, published in 2009 by Yash publication, New Delhi. Sir, I am head of the Deptt. of English, Samaldas Arts College, Bhavnagar, Bhavnagar University. In more than 32 national/international conferences/seminars I have presented my papers, especially on Dalit Issues. More than 22 research papers are published in various journals/books. At present, my one Ph.D student is working on Dalit literature. My creative work, especially poems published in the magazines of Gujarat Dalit Sahitya Akademi and Gujarat Sahitya Parishad. Earlier I was the regular subscriber of Dalit Voice. I know the committed duty to stand by the oppressed and neglected humanity of the country. I now read the Dalit Voice on the net. I have a profound faith in the DV for justice. Unity among Dalits should be strengthened. Wrong interpretation and misunderstanding, even of our brothers, should be removed. The book review by Dr. Neerav Patel (DV June 1, 2010) is misguiding and harmful to Dalit unity. I would like to bring out truth. (see also p.17)

Dalip Singh Pandhi, (dspandhi@rediffmail.com): The 2011 census should be caste-based to enable SC/ST/BCs to get financial and educational help. Our past census reports were all caste-based. The move is to debar more reservation in legislature, public sector and services. ■

94% primary students cannot recognise English letters

Ahmedabad: For 94% of the primary students in India, English is an alien language. This is official.

A study conducted by the Planning Commission has revealed that 94% of the students in primary schools across the country cannot recognise the English alphabets. This reality check is a major setback for govt. that has embarked on a major initiative to "universalise primary education" and grant the right to education.

A reading test was conducted in primary schools spread over 11 states and it emerged that only 6% primary students can identify English alphabets. But hardly any student of Chandigarh, MP and Assam could pass this test. This inability is restricted not just to English but to regional languages as well.

Because of the poor quality of teaching, the failure rate of students in class 1 and 2 is high in MP and Assam — 17.21% and 13.46% respectively. However, almost 21% students in Haryana and 16% in Rajasthan don't appear for examinations. There are some reasons behind this grim picture. The SSA norms stipulate that there should be at least two teachers per school, but 7.2% of the schools have just one teacher school and nearly 30% of the schools do not have more than two teachers. It was also observed that in Haryana and UP more than 90% of the teachers were involved in nonteaching activities.

India becomes the world's most illiterate country

Look. Here is a govt. report itself that admits total failure of the Indian education system even at the very grassroots level. Only the poor (read low castes) live in villages. India is a country of villages. If a youth does not complete primary school, how can he go to elementary and then to high school and college? After 65 years of Brahminical rule, India has become one of the most illiterate countries in the world. When education itself fails, everything else fails. Did we not predict this six years back? (India As a Failed State, DSA-2005, pp.25) — EDITOR.

World laughs at Indian rulers' boast of "super economy"

S. GIRIDHAR

All these years our ranking on the Human Development Index (HDI) has only worsened and this year has slid down to 134. Stated clearly in that report is the caveat that unless India addresses its education and social inequities, the projections of a sustainable super economy will be untenable.

Firstly, in the context of the BRIC report, let us do a snap shot comparison of Brazil and India. Next, let us lay out the premise that urban India's elite and middle class should do more to set standards in everyday life because that will have a huge ripple effect in building empathy for India's disadvantaged. The third point is that India must address the all pervasive retailing of corruption in order to fulfil its potential and not fritter away the gains made elsewhere.

For the 80% of India's children who study in rural schools, quality education has remained elusive. For the other 20% who study in India's urban schools, it is a mind numbing routine of rote learning and a stampede to score the highest marks in exams.

Most damaging for India's hugely iniquitous social fabric, the urban elite and middle class children have grown up cocooned comfortably as though in a planet different from that inhabited by 42% of India's population that lives below the poverty line. A good six months of compulsory internship in India's villages for all our youth would perhaps do a world of good.

Eight per cent GDP for 20,000 on the Sensex sounds heady but a growing economy will be meaningful and sustainable only if it helps reduce social inequities significantly. (Deccan Herald)

Personal attack on Gujarati writers can't become book review

HARISH MANGALAM

This refers to the book review by Dr. Neerav Patel in DV June 1, 2010 p.12.

Dr. Neerav Patel's style is not that of a literary person. There are so many kinds of doctors in our society. Brother Patel may be a Doctor of Animal Husbandry because the language used by him speaks better than anybody else. Secondly Brother Patel does not know the appropriate and correct meaning of the word "review". In his complete writings nowhere a sense of criticism, gustation or investigation of the artistic pieces compiled in the said International Journal of Literature and Aesthetics (Jan.Dec.2008) is seen. Each and every word and sentence of Brother Patel carry nothing but an animality and hypo-allergenic view. Suppose, he has done his Ph.D. in English literature then his degree is doubted. He does not know even the meaning of the simplest word "review".

Gujarat Dalit literature: Before writing he should know the role of the Editor and simultaneously the great responsibility of the particular region to be represented. Therefore, while selecting literary creations, the consultant Editor has to keep in mind the quality and not the names of writers as simply mentioned by Neerav Patel. In Gujarat, we have formed "Gujarat Dalit Sahitya Academy" for the promotion and advancement of Gujarati Dalit literature. We also publish its mouthpiece, Hayati, regularly since 14 years. We have also published 45 books of Dalit literature in Gujarati, Hindi, Marathi, English maintaining international standards.

Brahmin but committed: I am shouldering responsibility as general secretary, editor and publisher. With the full support of all Dalit writers and some of non-Dalit writers we have established the Gujarat Dalit Sahitya Academy and spread its aroma all over the world. The Gujarati Dalit literature movement is not at all splintered into any group but it is an ill-bred product of the mind of Neerav Patel. After a prolonged laborious labour of karkuni (clerical labour) of the Dalit literature movement, he is passing the day in vain in total alienation.

Patel must know the editor has to keep in mind not the names of various writers but compatibility and artistic literary creations. The editor has his own liberty, long-sighted vision and standard selection too. So, Patel should not exhibit himself in a shabby manner and show his karkungiri frequently.

Dr. Hasyada Pandya is principal of a noted college. Though a non-Dalit, she is a committed writer. We have included her literary work on the basis of merit, so question does not arise of an exclusion of anybody.

Brother Patel has mentioned the name of Jasumati Parmar, who is wife of Neerav Patel. I am rather surprised why he is advocating in such a cunning manner and kneeling before an unstable shelter. She is not at all in the Dalit literature field. Patel says Priyanka Kalpit is a mainstream writer, he is contradicting himself because he has included Priyanka Kalpit as a Dalit writer in a book, Gujarati Dalit Kavita (published by Central Academy, Bombay region). Dr. M.B. Gaijan is a scholar who has done his PhD in Dalit Literary tradition in Gujarat: A critical study (published by the Gujarat Dalit Sahitya Academy) is the first and foremost in Gujarati Dalit literature. It is an excellent and unique research work.

I have so far published various books in English, Eklavyas with Thumbs, Tongues of Fire, the Silver Lining, and Pristine Land etc. In all these books, I have included Dalit writers of whole Gujarat. So Brother Patel should not spread false information among the literary persons and innocent readers of Dalit Voice.

Gujarat's only Dalit poet: Brother Patel is quoted in the book of Barbara Joshi saying that "in Gujarat I am only a Dalit poet" (Courtesy: Dalpat Chauhan).

Joseph Macwan is no more. He was my friend and out of respect, I have spared maximum pages and published his artistic "Sketch" in Pristine Land.

Brother Patel has simply launched a personal attack in the name of review. He is a cynical and biased fellow. Such a vindictive writings should not have been published in a prestigious journal like Dalit Voice.

I salute K. Sreenivasanji for his commitment, strenuous pursuits and his constant perseverance for his valuable production of international journal.

(mangalam_harish@yahoo.com)

We have received several comments on Brother Neerav's article. We assure, all of them will be published. However, Dalit writers must note that when we openly quarrel it is the Brahminical enemy that will enjoy and exploit — EDITOR. ■

Jews & "Jews of India" behaving like drunken monkeys

V.T. RAJSHEKAR

Suddenly the Western (read Christian) world seems to be slowly turning against the Zionist Jew grindstone round its neck. The centuries-old fight, which began with the brutal killing of Jesus (Christ) by the Zionists, culminated in the total enslavement of the Christian world following the two World Wars and the immigration of the most poisonous Zionists to USA, creation of Israel, rise of USA as the sole super power, fall of England, destruction of Germany by using the "Holocaust tricks", war against Islam and many other minor incidents. And many more.

U.S. DEFEATED IN WAR AGAINST ISLAM

DV is the only paper in India which had the courage and capacity to present the historical facts as they are.

The Zionist Jews got the US defeated in the war against Islam. The defeat of US means the defeat of the Jews.

The gradual collapse of US, firstly as a financial power and next as a military power was also engineered by the Jews who are furious with its Christian rulers for not fully protecting their dream state of Israel, a mere dot on the world map.

JEW'S NOT GETTING SLEEP

The Jews are furious with both the US and the Christian Europe for not protecting and promoting Israel, a rogue state which is the sole cause of world unrest. Finally the Christian world has come to understand this supreme Truth.

DV was the first paper in the world to predict the fall of US. That day is coming near.

As the West and US in particular, is becoming incapable to protect Israel, the Jews have decided to kill USA. The slow death of USA is nearing. DV has predicted this also.

The Jews within the sick state of Israel, which is not recognized by a major portion of the world, are so worried that a majority don't get sound sleep in the night. Once a separate Palestine state is established beside it under the 2-state solution agreed by the Israel itself, the real trouble to the very existence of the Zionist state will begin.

No.1: Palestinians from all over the world will rush back to their homeland, legally or even illegally.

No.2: The Jews like the "Jews of India" cannot produce children as they are a biologically sick (cursed?) people.

No.3: As a consequence the beleaguered Jews in Israel will feel threatened and start rushing back to their homes in Russia, Poland, and elsewhere. But they may not be allowed to go back. Such a reverse migration is haunting the Jews.

WORLD WAR - III

As they have no homeland and no country is giving them shelter, the plight of the Jews and the Brahminical "Jews of India" will be another tragedy of their own making.

The result is chaos and the Jewish controllers of USA will force the super power to launch a World War-III - beginning with a nuclear attack on Iran which will be supported by China, Russia, the entire Muslim world, Africa, South America etc.

The "Jews of India", who are already the tail of USA (read Jews), will be forced to join the World War-III and eat dust. As the Brahminical rulers of India have already antagonized all its neighbors - China, Pakistan, Lanka, Bangladesh, Nepal and even Afghanistan, we can imagine what will be their fate.

HITLER SUPPORTED BY "JEWS OF INDIA"

During the World War-II, the Brahminical "Jews of India" played their Aryan card to win over the German Nazis and Hitler in their anger against the British rulers of India and claimed credit for the "Holocaust" against the Jews (Read our book, Brahminism - Father of Fascism, Racism, Zionism, DSA-2002, pp.160, Bangalore). Though immediately after the War they rejoined the winning party, British, the "Jews of India" did not condemn the Holocaust. Since then they joined the Jews whole log.

The thinking sections among Jews have told us that they were fully aware of the Brahminical mischief.

As the Jews and the "Jews of India" do not have a country of their own (they can't even trace the country of their origin), a World War-III, which they are vigorously provoking, will devour its own creators.

WORLD POWER SHIFTING

Meanwhile, the world power has started shifting from West to East with China at the top. That will also see the death of the current money-driven society and bring back all the good old human values painstakingly promoted by the Budha, Jesus, Prophet Mohammed and Dr. Ambedkar.

We have said all these things in our books and Dalit Voice but the rise of Hamas in the latest freedom flotilla, attacked by Israeli commandos on the Mediterranean seas, has drawn the whole world attention on the crimes of the illegal criminal-minded Zionist state without whose destruction there will be no world peace.

Even Turkey, a pro-Western Muslim state, which we have been repeatedly warning, has turned against Israel and West. We are glad that Turkey has finally heeded our warning.

Wait for big changes. ■

Brahminical build-up for a slum-dog millionaire

Kalpana Saroj, the new chairperson of Kamani Tubes Limited (KTL), is a Dalit, a school dropout, a Bombay slum-dog who worked for Rs. 2 a day to keep hunger at bay. This gritty lady has taken on the job of nursing this sick manufacturer of non-ferrous tubes back to health. The company was owned by the Kamani family.

A Dalit taking over a company like KTL, with its links to the early years of India's industrial development has its significance. In 1988, a unique experiment hailed as path-breaking, KTL was handed over to its workers, who turned owners. Sadly that experiment failed says, the Outlook Business Magazine, May 2, 2010.

Saroj, who hails from Akola, had her first brush with Bombay's shanties when she moved to the city as a child bride, at age 12. She abandoned the alliance and was taken back to her village. Driven to despair by her wretched circumstances, she attempted suicide, but survived.

Saroj still remembers the casteist slurs hurled at her by established businessmen. She entered the business in 1995 when she managed to clear encroachments and other claims on a piece of land. She bought the land with Rs. 5 lakh saved up from the almirah business. In 1997, with the help of institutional finance, Saroj erected a residential and commercial complex at a cost of Rs. 4 crore, and sold it for a tidy profit. Subsequently she continued to ride the realty boom.

Along the way, she dabbled in the sugar industry, buying a stake in the Sai Krupa Sakhar Karkhana in Ahmednagar, and becoming a director on the board. She could do this as she had nurtured influential political benefactors, cutting across party lines. She had in fact cut her teeth in befriending politicians and the bureaucrats when she worked with hords of unemployed in Bombay. Saroj claims to have helped channelise over Rs. 1.8 crore to these youth through numerous government schemes for self-employment activities. "My best capital has always been the people around me", she says.

Her detractors say the means she adopts are often unethical. They charge her with manipulating the system for benefit through her powerful political and bureaucratic patrons.

"She is an interloper who has wormed her way into KTL for its real estate. I wonder whether she is keen on doing anything worthwhile to resuscitate the company", says Thankappan. Saroj scoffs at the suggestion and says the company does not own any land other than a four acre plot in Bangalore. Kamani Chambers is on lease from the Mumbai Port Trust. ■ (<http://business.outlookindia.com/article.aspx?102078>) ■

Brahminism promotes individual salvation

A Dalit, that too a woman, rising to this level is something unbelievable in this caste-ridden cockpit - that is Hindu India. But it is possible if you get co-opted to the Brahminical system. Brahminism is always on the look out for stooges like monkey Hanuman - those willing to surrender, accept its value system. But they will never be allowed to question the rulers. This is called "individual salvation". Jagjivan Ram is the best example but when he wanted to become the PM, he was kicked. His daughter has come up by imitating her father.

DR. AMBEDKAR'S PATH

But Dr. Ambedkar never sought "individual salvation". He fought for his people braving the Brahmin fire and fury.

Hundreds of Dalit IAS, IPS, judges and other officials and politicians have "gone up the society" through "individual salvation" which is no salvation. Brahmins always seek "collective salvation". Day and night they think and worry about their jati.

The very fact a slum dog has become a millionaire and gets a rosy picture in a business journal proves which way she is gone.

Kalpana Saroj is no model to Dalits. - EDITOR. ■

Whole of Hindu India will go BIMARU ?

OUR CORRESPONDENT

Bangalore: The "Hindu heartland" also called the cowbelt is the fertile Gangetic plain where the invading Aryans came first and settled down. And launched their looting spree and the drive to devastate the innocent but hard-working natives. This area, called North India, houses the capital of the country, Delhi, and comprises the most stinking part of the country — despite housing the "holiest" centres for the Hindus.

BLUFFERS & BUGGERS

A demographer called Ashish Bose, a Bengali upper caste Kayasth (Hindu), rightly coined a word to describe the different areas comprising this cowbelt: BIMARU states. BIMARU in Hindi means sickness — though the letters in this word stands for the six states comprising the cowbelt: Bihar, MP, Rajasthan and UP. Some more states are since carved out of these four.

Ashish Bose, a professor of Delhi University, now 80, has written a book, Head Count (Memoirs of a Demographer), Penguin. Rs. 450, pp.214.

Indian population has reached 1,300 million though official figure is put 1.18 billion in 2009. Like everything else, no official estimate in India is correct.

Our rulers are first-class bluffers and laziest buggers. They can't do one work perfectly and honestly.

The man who coined the BIMARU was, however, did not say why these states are permanently bimaru and when they will get over the bimaru. But Dalit Voice has the answer.

COWBELT UNDER CANCER

These are the states where Brahminism, the reigning religion of the rulers, is having its dance of death. That is how the Brahmana Jati Party is controlling this area. Brahminism is a deadly disease, both mental and physical, which will not allow a person to think. That is how the cowbelt is the country's cancer.

Here lies the country's "holiest" river Ganga, flowing with stinking gutter water, on the banks of which is located the Hindu's "holiest temple", Kashi, a veritable hell on earth.

The BIMARU states are a liability for India. The Southern States which include Maharashtra, have escaped this BIMARU because, they are outside the cowbelt. That is how these five states have become the country's most advanced states. Out of the country's six metropolitan cities (Bombay, Delhi, Calcutta, Bangalore, Madras, Hyderabad) four are situated outside the cowbelt. Only Delhi, also the capital of India, is in the cowbelt. Even Calcutta is outside — though it is a dead city.

Specialists on the BIMARU disease killing the cowbelt states, like Ashish Bose say they are incurable. Already the whole area is in ICU.

This BIMARU is also contagious. Even the cities outside the BIMARU have started dying. That means the Brahminical BIMARU is spreading fast. Will the whole of Hindu India go BIMARU ?

Turkey at last heeds DV warning

OUR CORRESPONDENT

Bangalore: DV has been for over a decade pressing Turkey to quit the company of West, stop knocking the doors of the "Christian club" that is Europe and throw its lot with its natural Islamic partners in the East. So, naturally when Israel and its Western friends turned against Turkey following the brutal Zionist military attack on the Turkish peace flotilla on the Mediterranean waters, we were the happiest. Turkey has finally embraced East and jumped on the fast-rising forces of Islam. This is a big news. But one warning: Turkey must keep off Western (read Zionist) campaign to put it against Iran. Together, they can do a lot to kill the Bit Satan. When Turkey criticised the Zionist Israel for killing its nationals in the peace flotilla the entire West led by USA started barking at its best Muslim friend that is Turkey. So it is the West and its pet dog, Israel, that will be the cause of Turkey's tilt towards East.

This is a major development in history. Israel and its guardian USA have lost their most valued friend in Turkey. US will lose many more as long as it goes on protecting the criminal Zionists. US loss of Turkey's friendship is the biggest gain for East and Islam. But the West has already started giving pinpricks by instigating the Khurds against Turkey. But this will not last long. With its utter defeat in Afghanistan and Iraq rising up again, the fall of US has begun. ■

Jyoti Basu as "Butcher of Bengal"

HTTP://WWW.GOASU-RAJ.ORG/GEN/NEWS/1799.ASP

They say that you must not speak ill of the dead. Going by this logic, I suppose we mustn't use strong words about Adolf Hitler, Attila or Chengiz Khan. If you subscribe to that school of thinking, pray do not read further.

I seldom write about politics as I prefer to confine my writing to books and music, but the general feeling of "a great and principled son of India passing into the history books" got my goat.

I therefore decided to present my viewpoint. I am sending a compressed version of this to the Hindu but do not have any confidence in that ragtag bunch of pinkos.

SCOTCH ON THE ROCKS

I would like to present a brief analysis of the achievements of that high priest of communism, the recently deceased Jyoti Basu. I say candlelight (Jyoti) because I do not remember using electric lights during the 18 years of his misrule that I had to endure. I make bold to say this because I lived there from my birth in 1965 to middle age in 1995.

He single-handedly turned West Bengal into Waste Bengal.

I remember sleepless nights in the hot summers, day after day, week after week, month after month, year after year — he merely sipped his Scotch on the rocks in air conditioned comfort when we had 14 hour power cuts. This is a fact which even the WB Govt. will not deny: Yes, 14 hr power cuts.

When he was asked in the late 60s why WB was not investing more in the power sector, he famously replied "What shall we do with more power, eat it?" It is mainly for this reason that we children hated him so much. Ask anyone who was a child in The Waste Land in the 70s and 80s. Anyone. I repeat, anyone. He destroyed our childhood. There was not a single day when we could sit or study or sleep in peace. There just wasn't enough power to go around. The Grand Geriatric thought that the hungry and dispossessed whom he ruled would eat it.

BENGAL TURNED WASTE LAND

He went on to eat crow, but never mind. He went on summer trips to the UK every year when we literally burnt. The newspapers parroted his line that his trips were made to attract foreign investment, would you believe it? That too after every single company had fled from his Waste Land. Even the venerable ITC, which like the boy in Casablanca, stood on the burning deck whence all but he had fled, was forced to shift. Factories were under 24X7 lockouts, unemployment was rampant, and starvation levels rose faster than the hemlines of Kingfisher's air hostesses.

18 ANAND MARGIS KILLED

The only things which happened with sickening regularity were strikes and processions — micheels, as they were called. The Kerala School of Communism has successfully taken this leaf from his book, and have elevated this to an art form. We can definitely expect a minister of bandhs, processions, hartals in the next Kerala Cabinet. The man reduced the entire state to a vast stinking slum.

And violence. Yes, always the blood curdling violence in the tradition of Stalin and Mao and other communist gods. I am talking of the stomach-churning violence that his goons would unleash at the slightest pretext. I remember in 1982 his thugs had battered to death 18 Ananda Margis in broad daylight.

There was blood on the streets, I know, because I saw the blood.

The maid who worked for us told us that everyone watched while his thugs systematically pounded the living daylights of these Ananda Margis whose crime we shall never know. My mother prevented me, a 17-year-old at that time, from going out, but I managed to sneak out in the evening to the Kasba overbridge where this had happened. I saw the blood. We also know how his goons cracked Mamata Banerjee's skull when she led a procession against his misrule.

CPM-RSS CLASHES IN KANNUR

Earlier, when he was the Leader of the Opposition, his goons had burnt a number of trams and buses when the fares were raised by 2 paise. And this was in Calcutta. In the villages, the slightest opposition to the party line meant certain loss of a few body parts if you were lucky, or death if you weren't, and dismemberment piece by piece if you made him really angry. The CPI(M)-RSS clashes in Kannur were closely covered in the Press, and gained national notoriety.

No one thought it fit to report on what this wolf in sheep's clothing in Bengal had been doing all these years. And the best part was that this charlatan managed to convey a sense of decency when he spoke in his quaint British accented English. The Nandigram incidents in recent times only highlighted this aspect of his legacy, and poor old Buddhadeb carried the can for the murder and mayhem which had become a part of the Bengal culture.

EDUCATION SYSTEM DESTROYED

Hail Jyoti of the Bloodied Hands. He single handedly destroyed the education system. With one fell stroke, he took Bengal back by at least 25 years. Let anyone, even party apparatchiks who can bring themselves to read this, dispute this fact. He banned the study of English in government schools while he himself had the benefit of an English education – Middle Temple, old chap, you know how it is, can you pass me the Black Label please? Don't forget the ice. But then hypocrisy has always been a hallmark of the communists.

He ensured that his industrialist son Chandan's biscuit factories never had any strikes while the rest of Waste Bengal degenerated gradually from disorder to chaos, and thence into total pandemonium. He, the holier-than-thou Communist, and the self anointed leader of the homeless, the oppressed, the depressed, the dispossessed, and pretty much everyone else, had nothing to say when his profligate son got married to the niece of that arch capitalist and anti-Communist Swraj Paul.

E.M.S. AS BRAHMIN

The parallel from the Kerala School is about how that grand old Communist EMS ensured that his children married only people from his (Brahmin) own caste. Grandpa Jyoti did not oppose his grand children attending the American school in Calcutta. However he was mean enough to name the street on which the American Consulate stands as Ho Chi Minh Sarani. He certainly had a sense of black humor, our beloved Jyoti "Candlelight" Basu.

Thus while the American consulate would regularly get brickbatted by his hordes at the slightest pretext, the American school was always safe. Miraculous, isn't it? He was forced to repeal his anti-English decision (I call it the Andhakar Act perpetrated by Jyoti the Candlelight) because even the party apparatchiks had started to question this - they too began sending their children to "Inglis mediaam" schools. Even the Faithful have their limits.

C.P. M. THUGS

When the current chief minister Buddhadeb (he was Information Minister then) stated publicly that the CPI(M) had become a haven of thugs and goons, do you know what Jyoti babu did? Yes, you're right. He sacked him on the spot. It was a much chastened Buddhadeb who came back in sackcloth and ashes a couple of years later. He was reinstated, and then crowned heir apparent.

ASHOK MITRA DISMISSED

He was an opportunist of the first water. I remember the Illustrated Weekly of India had run a series of articles praising Indira Gandhi after she was assassinated. Everyone was going gaga about what a great democrat and saviour she was. Exactly a year later, when they decided to show both sides of the coin, they invited Dr. Ashok Mitra to write a two part essay on her.

Dr. Mitra, a World Bank ex-employee, was Grandpa Jyoti's Finance Minister during his first and second terms. He had a Ph.D in economics from one of the Ivy League colleges, and was a brilliant and erudite scholar. Pure aqua regia, not ink, filled his pen. The essay was a real hatchet job, and showed Mrs. Gandhi's true character — venal, corrupt and crooked.

N.D. TIWARI SEX GAME

Guess what lovable Grandpa Jyoti did — yessirree, you got it right first time, he just booted Dr. Mitra out of the cabinet. Guess why. Because Rajiv conveyed his displeasure unequivocally. That showed what kind of camaraderie existed between communists. He craved power like a drunkard craves booze, or to use a modern day metaphor, like N.D. Tiwari craved nubile women. Nothing wrong fundamentally, I suppose, to crave something you like, but I say this because of the tendency of pinko rags like the Hindu to paint Jyoti Basu as a selfless man of high principles who was ever ready to give up his chair for the sake of principles blah blah hah hah etc.

His Geriatric Highness was ready, ever ready I should say, to become PM and President, but his comrades, for reasons best known to them, prevented him despite the tremendous pressure he brought to bear on them. And he was churlish enough to say that this was a "historic blunder". Historic, because it had deprived him of his place in history.

KERALA WARLORD

He was the man who said Erom to hoye thake (these things keep happening) when a woman was gangraped by his communist thugs in broad daylight during his 24 year misrule. Similar sentiments were re-echoed by another Communist warlord of the Kerala School — E. K. Nayanar, that fraud who was portrayed by the Party as a lovable humbug. When it was pointed out to him that an American tourist had been raped in Kerala during his rule, he said that getting raped to Americans was like drinking tea (chaya kudikkunna madiri aanu).

As a Malayali brought up in Bengal, I had the opportunity to see at close quarters the hypocrisy and the chicanery which were the hallmarks in both schools of the communist religion. Despite all his cant about secularism and anti-casteism, Waste Bengal was the land where you had to have a proper "title" — the Bengali word for surname — to move up. And true to his ilk, Jyoti Basu had only Bhattacharyas and Mukherjees and Ganguly's, not to mention Chatterjees and Boses and Sens and other upper castes in his cabinet. Not a single low caste or tribal found accommodation in his cabinet or inner circle.

What do you think is happening in Lalgarh today? He continued the policy of exploitation of the tribals and the lower castes by telling them that it was in their best interests to vote CPM — pass the Scotch, old chap, and be snappy about it, will you?

PEG OF BLACK LABEL

Like Atal Behari Vajpayee of the BJP who was ready to become the PM when someone else had worked for the party's victory, Jyoti Basu found himself in the CM's chair because Pramode Dasgupta willed it. It was the (Havana) cigar chomping Dasgupta who almost single handedly won the 1977 elections.

However for reasons best known to him, he decided to stay out of the government, and handed over the reins of power to the Scotch-swilling bhadralok leader of the dispossessed (sarbohara, as they say in Bengal) Jyoti. I keep talking of Scotch and cigars because a Havana cigar or a peg of Black Label cost more than a month's wages of the people whom they purported to lead.

VOTE RIGGING

When Pramode Dasgupta died an untimely death, a nondescript Saroj Mukherjee was made Chairman of the Left Front, though what he did remained a mystery to everyone, including himself. Jyoti Basu then had untrammelled power. With Pramode-das out of the way, Jyoti Babu ran both the govt. and the party like Mao, and Saroj Babu kept himself busy by reading the newspapers regularly.

Power corrupted, and absolute power corrupted absolutely. While the Mulayams and the Laloos, not to mention the Nayanars and the Indiras (how can we forget her?) rigged the elections on election day, our man Jyoti was a systematic sort. Nothing so crude for our barrister babu. He started the process 5 years in advance by tampering with the voters' lists. There wasn't anyone like T.N. Seshan in those days, so our sarboharader neta could do whatever he liked.

TREATMENT IN LONDON

Hundreds and thousands of people suddenly found themselves struck off the rolls. The cadre systematically infiltrated every area of the establishment — the teaching fraternity in the primary schools, the colleges, the universities; the lower level judiciary; the panchayats; the lower rung government officers; the police; all establishments of government patronage — every single aspect of government was taken over by the apparatchiks, who were all paid for with state funds. And so they went from strength to strength while the rest of India watched and congratulated the man who gave a new meaning to the word disinformation. And yet, people still say he was a gentleman.

By his own admission, "I'm not a gentleman, I'm a Communist". According to Lord Meghnad Desai, an admirer of his, Jyoti Basu is supposed to have made the following remarks about the Tiananmen massacre when he visited London en route to the US (yes, US, would you believe it) for his treatment — "When you open the window, flies come in". Thus spake the great democrat.

C.P.M. FACES DEFEAT

He tacitly supported the Chinese invasion of India, and refused to salute the tricolor until the 80s. All these are facts, although the communists will come up with some stupid explanation or the other for these. The great achievements of the Communist rule were during the first phase — from 1977 to 1982. That was when Operation Barga was rolled out, and it was the handiwork of Nanigopal Bhattacharya, if I am able to recollect his name correctly. This single operation enabled the CPI(M) to have a hardcore cadre, and with their help, they systematically let loose a reign of terror which is yet to be replaced. However the winds of change are blowing, and the marxists will in all probability lose control over Writers' Building in the next elections.

TOTALLY RUTHLESS

Let's get one thing clear. In today's jungle raj that is Indian politics, even hard core thugs like Laloo and Mulayam have barely managed to last more than 5-6 years at a time. The question to be asked is, then how did Grandpa Jyoti manage it? 23 years on the trot, and are we to infer that he stayed there because he fed the hungry, clothed the naked, sheltered the homeless and generally spread sweetness and light?

He stayed on top because he was more ruthless and cold blooded than all these worthies combined. As simple as that. He was right up there in the Mao and Stalin class — totally ruthless, entirely self seeking, and sickeningly pretentious. I am here to serve you, now move aside else I am gonna kick your ass, old chap, pass me the scotch will you, there's a dear? Just like they brought down Stalin's statue in Russia and Saddam's in Iraq, the day is not far off when the Bengalis cast him and his entire legacy to where it rightfully belongs — the rubbish heap of history. Let's not shed any tears for Jyoti Basu.
